GIFT OF SECURITIES

The Martha Jefferson Hospital Foundation encourages gifts of stocks, bonds, stock options and shares of mutual funds. A gift of appreciated securities -- stock worth more now than what you paid for it -- is a popular alternative to a cash gift because it actually has the potential to save taxes twice. You receive an income tax deduction for the full fair market value of your securities (if you've held the securities for more than one year), and you avoid capital gains tax on the appreciation. The fair market value is determined by the mean of the high and low sales prices on the date the stock is given to Martha Jefferson. Should appreciated securities be used to make a bequest, or to fund a charitable trust, gift annuity, or other planned-giving arrangement, you may realize substantial estate and gift tax benefits as well.

You may be eligible to claim an income tax charitable deduction of up to thirty-percent of your adjusted gross income for a gift of securities held for more than one year. As with gifts of cash, any deduction you cannot use in the year of your gift may be carried over and used for up to five additional years.
